THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1891.

A BUILDING and loan association would be a great aid to Flagstaff. It requires no capital to start and its benefits would be shown from the day the first loan was made. Why not organize such an association?

District Court in Texas has just held that the Alien land law passed by the legislature is unconstitutional and void. The law excluding foreigners from borrowing money on Texas land has already created severe money stringency throughout the state.

THE Yuma Times lists of newspapers that favor the Constitution include the COCONINO SUN. The Times is mistaken in this. The Cocino Sun is in favor of statehood for Arizona, but has not yet advocated the adoption of the Constitution made by the recent Constitutional Convention.

THE Phoenix papers are very wispish on the subject of the adoption of the constitution. They are not disposed to allow anything said against that document. Let us have a full, free discussion on this issue, and, do not misconstrue motives that are to all appearances honest. If there is anything good or bad in the constitution let us hear about it.

From the little that is known of the constitution in Tucson we are satisfied that a number of our business men not only intend to vote but they intend to work against it. Unfortunately the convention fixed the date of the adoption of the constitution at a period that practically precludes a full discussion of its perfections and defects, and the determination to vote against it is largely based on that ground.—Tucson Citizen.

THE curious story of a New York doctor who was a victim of the "coffee" habit whether true or baseless, will probably serve to emphasize the fact that civilization brings with it a host of harmful habits. Our ancestors knew but few of our present comforts, but they knew less of our diseases. Even the discovery of such useful drugs as quinine, cocaine, ether, chloral, antipyrine and morphine has brought a host of new horrors upon those weak or foolish enough to persist in the excessive and regular and undue use of such as tonics, palliatives or sedatives.

THE work of the Constitutional Convention which recently met at Phoenix has at last been put in print by the Phoenix papers. The document is remarkable for its length. It would make, set in ordinary law book form, about one hundred pages. It is four times as long as the Constitution of the United States. But one state in the Union has a longer one than the proposed constitution for Arizona. The length of the document is no objection to it. The question before the voters is its rejection or its adoption. The election for the adoption or rejection of the Constitution takes place on the first Tuesday in December and but little time is given to discuss its merits and demerits, and as it is a matter of the greatest importance to every citizen of Arizona, every voter should carefully read the Constitution and be prepared to discuss it section by section.

THE position of the Florence Enterprise on statehood does not appear satisfactory to some of its Phoenix contemporaries, and is being severely criticised by them for the supposed error of its ways. This is neither fair nor courteous to the profession. Newspapers like private individuals, differ on important subjects, and no one paper or party of papers, has a right to attempt to dictate the policy of another in which they have no financial interest. If this were possible all antagonism would be crushed and but one side of a subject would be placed before the people. Fortunately it is otherwise. As the constitution, in its adoption or rejection, means much to Arizona, the fullest and freest scope for its discussion should not only be given but should be encouraged. If it contains subject matter that is not only not acceptable but is injurious to the citizens of any one portion of the county, those people through their representative, the press, should be respectfully heard against it. It is but fair that we should be fair all around. Our neighbors have opinions that should be respected as well as our own, and this fact should not be lost sight of in the statehood controversy that is now before the public.—Tucson Citizen.

Beauty is said to be only skin deep; but to possess and preserve a beautiful skin, pure, vigorous blood is essential. This is best secured by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla in small but frequent doses. It is the most reliable of blood purifiers.

A dispatch from Alabama announces that several track men were blown in pieces by an explosion of blasting powder. It is also stated that the explosion was caused by the ignition of the nitro-glycerine by a spark from a passing locomotive. With all due deference to Alabama scientists the explanation is a very doubtful one.

THERE is a great diversity of opinion among the business men of Flagstaff in regard to the question of statehood for Arizona. It is the general opinion that the expense of state government will be greater than the good derived from it. If the advocates of statehood do not pull off their coats and work for the cause it will get a black eye in this neck of the woods.

CHIEF JUSTICE GOODING has decided in the case of Williams against the county of Maricopa, that a district attorney of any county may appoint a deputy, or the court may appoint a deputy district attorney in the assistance of the district attorney and the county must pay such deputy for his service. The decision is based upon the statute of the territory authorizing the district attorney to appoint a deputy, and also authorizes him to incur any necessary expense in the discharge of the duties of his office, but his honor holds that the necessity for the employment of a deputy must be shown to the satisfaction of the board of supervisors before the services can become a county charge.

THE Tucson Citizen makes the following suggestion, which is worthy of consideration at this time: It has been suggested that a separate vote be taken at the time the constitution is voted on. The vote on the constitution will be a yes or no—mostly no if we read the signs aright. The other vote will be statehood or no statehood. It will involve but little expense and will show the true feeling of the people on this momentous question. Ballots can be prepared and a box placed at a convenient place, where every voter can express his preferences for or against statehood. In the event of the constitution being voted down it will show to congress that under favorable conditions the people of Arizona look anxiously forward to the day when they can see their territory don the purple of state. We think the idea an excellent one and it should be adopted.

Serious Danger
Threatens every man, woman or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malaria disease are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medical safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify this danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and most popular. Irregularities of the bowels, liver and bowels, encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique are thus defended against the inroads of malaria by this harmless preventive, which is also a certain and thorough remedy in the worst cases of intermittent and remittent fevers.

STATEHOOD.

Opinions From Our Exchanges—What They Say For and Against It.
Advocates of statehood who pay no tax and consequently dance while others pay the fiddler, are as proud of the recently framed constitution as the boy with his first pair of red-top boots. Look at my boots! Look at our constitution!—Silver Belt.

Judge W. H. Stillwell of Tombstone, who has done some tall figuring on state expenses under the new constitution, estimates the increased expenses over and above the present cost of maintaining the territorial form of government at $75,000. This amount added to $40,000 of territorial indebtedness annually incurred will make an annual indebtedness of $115,000. What the benefits of statehood have to offer against this is yet to be demonstrated.—Tucson Citizen.

Word comes from Tombstone that Hon. Mark Smith will not stump his county in favor of the new constitution. It is well known that Mark voted five different ways on the water question. On the day of the adoption of the obnoxious clause he voted against it, but the next morning asked the privilege of withdrawing his negative vote and placing himself on record as having voted for it. He was obligingly permitted to do so. This was a great mistake on his part. To begin with he believed the bill was wrong and voted against it. Had he stood by his first record it would have made him many friends. He is wise however, in letting the thing take its chances among the electors of the county without attempting to bolster it up with his oratory.—Tucson Citizen.

Deafness Can't be Cured
By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is neither but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

THE WHITE METAL.

A Convention of Silver Miners at El Paso.

Date Fixed for December 15th—Silver the Only Question to be Considered at the Meeting.

TO THE PROSPECTORS, MINERS, MINE AND CLAIM OWNERS OF NEW MEXICO, ARIZONA AND WESTERN TEXAS:
The depression that exists through out the Southwest is due to the unnatural depreciation of silver and to the evil effects caused by that portion of the alien act that prohibits the investment of foreign capital in mining property in the Territories. The object of the Southwest Silver Convention is to convene on the 15th day of December, 1891, in El Paso, Texas, to discuss and take steps to remedy these evils. No other subject but the silver question and the modification of the alien act will be entertained by the convention, and all attempts to prevent the object of this mass meeting of miners by the introduction of questions foreign to the principles for which it was called will be suppressed. The restoration of silver to its normal value or parity with gold, and the obliteration of an unjust discrimination against the miners operating in the Territories, will engage the entire energy and time of the assembled miners of the Southwest.
CHAS. LONGNEAR, Pres't Executive Committee.
F. W. EDDLESTEN, Sec'y Executive Committee.

The convention will be called to order at 9 a. m. on the 15th of December, 1891, at the Opera House in the City of El Paso, Texas; a temporary organization effected and the usual committees appointed. Afterward a permanent organization will follow:
The convention of miners in El Paso will be a mass convention, each camp sending as many delegates as they wish. All prospectors, miners, mine and claim owners in New Mexico, Arizona and Western Texas, will be qualified for membership in the convention.

Miners should meet in each camp, district, town and city in New Mexico and Arizona at some suitable date, hold a meeting for the purpose of securing as full a representation as possible to the Southwest Silver Convention that will convene in El Paso on the 15th day of December next.

Stockmen's Wisdom.

Bunches of Montana native steers are now selling for from eighteen to twenty dollars a head. This is good buying, for as an investment in two years they will prove better than any other property that is to be found. Within the last two years sheep have become the best paying property that could be handled. Now every man wants to buy sheep when they are high priced, and sell out cattle because cattle are only bringing fair prices. In view of all this, the question may not inaptly be asked, when will stockmen learn wisdom? In the light of past history it has ever been this way. Has the spirit of patience in well doing fled from the seat of reason? Do the signs of the times, intelligently read, offer no evidence that there is in the near future probabilities and strong possibilities of a genuine return to prices that point the way to prosperity? Present prices for good beef cattle are by no means to be despised, and warrant breeders and range cattlemen in staying with the business and in paying better prices for cattle to increase their beef herds.—Stock Growers Journal.

Has Not Resigned.

The following from the Globe-Democrat explains why it was that Mr. Robinson tendered his resignation as general manager of the Aransas Pass railroad a few days ago, which caused so much wonder among his friends:
SAN ANTONIO, TEX., October 22.—It is now stated here that the resignation of Mr. D. B. Robinson as general manager of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railway after one week of service, has nothing more behind it than the expediency of his immediately assuming charge. He made a trip over the road, inspected its workings and was thoroughly satisfied with the outlook. When reorganization is effected Mr. Robinson will assume charge as president and general manager. His retirement is, therefore, merely temporary. When the road passes from under the receivers, who are working to place it upon a sound financial footing, Mr. Robinson will take charge.

Wool Market.

The Boston Advertiser says: Territory wools hold steady with the sales averaging fair. The market is well supplied, which has a tendency to make buyers rather indifferent, but general values are well maintained. The range for fine strong warp territory wools yet hold at about 60¢@62¢ secured, with some fancy lots quoted a shade higher, while the fine medium holds steady at 58¢@60¢. Fine medium wools in the grease remain at about 19¢@21¢, with occasional light lots as high as 22¢. Texas wools rule in fair demand, with offerings moderate, the better grades of 12 months' growth ranging about the same as territories, with the shorter staple at 3¢ to 4¢ off, as to quality. California wools remain quiet and about steady, there being little pressure to sell, owing to the high cost of supplies in San Francisco.

The attention of the ladies of Flagstaff is called to our line of fine visiting cards.
Captain Henry Kinsbury writes from California that Mrs. Kinsbury has presented him with a fine boy.

TERRITORIAL NOTES.

The total amount of claims allowed by the Territorial Prison Board for the third quarter of 1891, ending October 1, was $11,665.

Cattlemen around this vicinity are becoming somewhat bullish, and are asking two cents, gross, from California buyers.—Courier.

The Bulletin advocates the building of a telegraph line from Solomonville to either Sheldon or Bowie station, and says the enterprise would be a paying one.

There are over two thousand hogs running wild in the tules near Lerdo. Those which have been killed were found to be very fat.—Sentinel.

Rumor has it that San Carlos will soon be reduced to a two company post, Troop B, 10th Cavalry, and G, 24th Infantry, to be transferred to other stations soon.—Silver Belt.

Miss Lily Lee, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lee, of the American ranch, died this morning after an illness of only a few days duration.—Journal-Miner.

Bill Dalton, a carpenter who has been in the Phoenix asylum and a Texas asylum had to be arrested for temporary madness resulting from liquor.—Yuma Times.

Chas. Young, a sporting man, was stabbed in the back by a man known as Sailor Jack, last week. The two quarrelled over a woman who had been supporting the Jack.—Yuma Times.

An-Ne-Ta, a Yuma Indian girl about ten years old, died on the reservation Monday morning of last week and was cremated the same day, ceremonies continuing until Tuesday morning.—Yuma Times.

Antonio, the Papago Indian, charged with burglary, who escaped from the county jail last Friday, was captured by Deputy Sheriff Burke at Gila Bend Monday morning who brought him down Monday evening and locked him up in the county jail. During the night Antonio dug a hole 12x13 in the wall and made his escape, taking along with him Sheriff Nugent's militia uniform. Indians have been put on the escape's trail.—Yuma Times.

Wm. Smith passed through St. Johns last Monday, on his way from Silver City, N. M., to Gallup. He reports not a spear of grass from the Spur ranch south to Silver City, and predicts a loss of at least 75 per cent of the cattle in that section this winter. As he puts it, the cattlemen in the country over which he passed, will have to restock their ranges next spring. This may be a little exaggerated; but the fact is, that the outlook for cattle this winter, is worse, by far, than it has ever been.—St. John Herald.

Judge E. M. Sanford, the general manager of the Yuma Pumping and Irrigating company, accompanied by J. H. Carpenter, superintendent, came in from Yuma on important business connected with the aforesaid enterprise. Among their transactions here may be named the purchase and shipment to Yuma of a car load of mules, one of hay and one of rolled barley. The pumping scheme inaugurated by these gentlemen whereby many thousands of acres of desert will soon be under cultivation, has proved a perfect success, and preparations are now being made to put in one hundred acres of vegetables which will be ready for market during January and February. The company has also given contract for the planting of 300 acres of fruit trees, one-half of the acreage to be citrus fruit, such as apple, pear, pomegranate and others.—Phoenix Republican.

The Courier states that the country is being flooded with spurious $5 gold pieces. The counterfeiters are made of lead and washed with gold; they can be easily detected by sounding them or cutting into them with a knife.

General W. O. O'Neill made several big contracts for his Big Bug onyx, to be delivered at once in Chicago, New York and Washington. Ex-Armoryman Dougherty is interested with General O'Neill in the property.—Phoenix Herald.

In hunting around for transgressors of the Edmunds Act, why not take a run over to San Carlos and let up on the white race? Apaches come under the act, and should not receive special favor from the Government.—Prospector.

Considerable uneasiness is manifested by some of our cattlemen on account of the scarcity of water in certain sections. Springs have gone dry that were never known to fail before. Many of them are slinking well in case of an emergency.—Willcox stockman.

"O Homo," the Tombstone "wild man," was in Yuma this week. He was decently dressed and conducted himself with propriety. "Homo" of Germany, who is preparing to make a trip over the Colorado desert.—Yuma Sentinel.

J. D. Helm, superintendent of the Tiger mine, shipped six bars of bullion, amounting to 8,000 ounces, a result of six days' run of the Tiger mill on ore from the Tiger mine. This is the first run and first shipment from that property, but will certainly be followed regularly by many others, as the ore is on hand and in sight to do it.—Courier.

During the past week there have been vague rumors of a determination having been officially expressed that the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe would push the north and south road through to Benson to connect with the Guyma branch of the road. The visit of President Marvel of the Santa Fe to Guyma and Bisbee was not for pleasure, but to post himself better on the situation and be better prepared to recommend new ideas in his annual message at the meeting of the company which takes place on the 29th inst. He is said to have expressed much surprise at the steady growth of the traffic on the N. M. & A. road, and especially that portion of it which originates at Tombstone and Bisbee.—Journal Miner.

The constitution for Arizona adopted by the Constitutional Convention October 2, 1891, is sent out with this issue of the COCONINO SUN. Every voter should peruse it carefully and have his mind made up to vote for or against it on December 1, 1891.

OUR GOODS ARE APPRECIATED.

The above sketch was made from a photograph taken in the stores of Weinstein, Lubin & Co., Sacramento, on a morning last May. At that time some of the other departments were equally crowded, as is the case on many days in the year.

Our goods are best appreciated by those who are here to see and feel them, and to compare with the goods of other houses. I we simply had low prices, without right qualities and right styles, there would be little to gain in dealing here, and we should not be able to hold for a day the great trade that does come from Sacramento and through the mails.

In the very throng shown in the sketch are doubtless several "Mail Order Selectors." These people are carefully chosen for their intelligence and taste, and go about the store making purchases for those who send in their orders by post. They are held responsible for the satisfactory filling of every order, and dare not risk sending anything but the very best the house affords. Before the goods on any order are packed for shipment, they are carefully gone over by a staff of very competent people, called "Examiners." Thus two sets of people view critically every item, and as nearly as possible from the stand-point of the customer, whom they represent. Serious complaints are rarely received, although hundreds of orders are dispatched daily.

In many respects, mail-order shopping is more satisfactory than buying in person. The fine illustrations in the catalogue (a copy is sent free to any address), and the clear and impartial descriptions, enable one to sit at home and decide at their leisure just what goods will best suit their purpose. In an hour spent in looking over the catalogue, they can really see a larger variety of goods and get more useful information than they can in a day spent in shopping through a crowded store.

It is so the interest of the house to fill every order so well that other orders will be sure to follow. Small orders are often sent in as the forerunners of large ones. They are invited to "test." This one fact, if nothing else, prompts us to fill every order, no matter how small, to the very best of our ability.

Samples of dress goods, prints, muslins, etc., are sent free on application. Those who order samples will oblige by stating as nearly as possible the colors desired, and about the prices they wish to pay. In this way much larger selections bordering on their wants can be sent.
